A brief review of aviation weather basics and seasonal weather changes

Here in Southern California, we don't see the extremes of weather that many other parts of the country see. But, we do see changes with the seasons... As we head in to Spring, let's take a look at some of the things that affect our local weather, and take a moment to review some weather basics.

Master CFI John Mahany is both a King Air and Citation Instructor at Flight Safety in Long Beach, and over the course of his career he has worked for five airlines, three as a pilot (FAR 135 and 121) and two as aircraft dispatcher (FAR 135 and 121). This includes experience gained with bush flying while he was in Alaska, which he survived! During the many twists and turns in his career, he's learned a few things about weather systems and trends, and will share some of that knowledge with us.

Directions: Exit the 5 or 91 Freeway at Magnolia Ave northbound. Turn left on Commonwealth Ave. In about 1/4 mile, you'll pass the airport terminal and ATC tower building; AFI is the next building to the west. AFI Main Hangar, next to self-serve fuel island west of the terminal building.
